1. INTRODUCTION

In January 2015, Premium Homes started out after the directors and owners Madelein Lamley and Wayne Myburgh decided to go into the market under their own brand and identity.

The underlying premise was and is that, as a Real Estate sales company, we would establish a home for agents where they could maximise their income but, simultaneously, operate under a professional brand.

As agents, the options for larger brands were and are to deal with a large split in commissions, to pay excessive desk fees, or, finally, to work for a smaller company but not necessarily have the experience a professional brand offers. Our plan was to offer the best of all worlds; a large commission split, low desk/branding fee and a professional brand. Culturally, as a company, we also wanted to create an environment where mutual respect and support and ethical, professional behaviour would be our requirement.

If these objectives were achieved, agents would join our company long term. It is expected of our agents to have a high level of independence and the relationship with the company is to be one of a business partnership. We provide the brand and umbrella under which our partners can operate and, as you will see, they tend to thrive in this environment.

2. THE ACT

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, No 2 of 2000 ("The Act" or "PAIA") was enacted on 3 February 2000, giving effect to the right of access to any information held by Government, as well as any information held by another person who is required for the exercising or protection of any rights. This right is entrenched in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution of South Africa. Where a request is made in terms of The Act, the body to which the request is made is not obliged to release the information, except where The Act expressly provides that the information may or must be released. The Act sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to such request.

- Limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy;

- Effective, efficient and good governance

And in a manner that balances that right with any other rights, including such rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.
